SECTION 1: SAPIENTIA EDUCATION TRUST (SET) STATEMENT OF INTENT

1.1 The Equality Act 2010 replaced all existing equality legislation, including the Disability Discrimination Act. The Act requires schools to produce an Accessibility Plan that identifies the action they intend to take over a three year period to increase access for those with a disability in three key areas. This plan will be published and evaluated periodically. The three key areas are:

Increasing the extent to which disabled students can participate in the school curriculum

SET are committed to providing an environment that enables full curriculum access that values and includes all students, staff, parents, carers and visitors regardless of their education, physical, sensory, social, spiritual, emotional and cultural needs. We are committed to taking positive action in the spirit of the Equality Act 2010 with regard to disability, and to developing a culture of inclusion, support and awareness within the schools. Our schools will also make reasonable adjustments for individual students who need extra provision to that which is already in place, to make sure that all students are involved in every aspect of school life and that all barriers to learning are removed. Improving the environment of the school to increase the extent to which disabled students can take advantage of education and associated services Each school will take account of the needs of students and visitors with physical difficulties and sensory impairments when planning and undertaking future improvements and refurbishments of the site and premises. This includes improved access, lighting, acoustic treatment and colour schemes and more accessible facilities and fittings.

Improving the delivery to disabled students of information which is provided in writing for students who are not disabled.

SET are committed to improving the delivery of written information to students, staff, parents, carers and visitors. Examples might include hand-outs, timetables, textbooks and information about an school's events. Such information will be made available in various preferred formats within a reasonable timeframe.

4.6 Parental Guidance

4.6.1 Schools must not discriminate against disabled students for a reason relating to their disability. They should promote the inclusion of disabled students in their admission arrangements and in all aspects of school life.

Accessibility Plans and 'Reasonable Adjustments'

Schools will vary widely in how accessible they are to individual disabled students. Parents and carers should check what improvements have been made and what is being planned when considering which school they would like their child to attend.

Every school must have an Accessibility Plan which shows how they intend to improve accessibility for disabled students. The plan must be published, and you can ask to see it. It will outline how the school will:

- Improve the physical environment;
- Make improvements in the provision of information;
- Increase access to the curriculum.

Schools can also increase access for individual students by making 'reasonable adjustments'. These can be simple changes for instance, making sure lessons are on the ground floor if one of the students uses a wheelchair and the school does not have a lift.

They may also be able to help during assessments or exams, so that students are assessed fairly during their course.

You should always talk to a school to discuss what it can reasonably do to include your child.

Improvements to the Physical Environment

Changes to the physical environment that a school could make to increase access might include:

- Lighting and paint schemes to help visually impaired children;
- Lifts and ramps to help physically impaired children;
- Additional accessible WC facilities;
- Tactile markings at crossing points and at staircases to assist those with visual impairments;
- Carpeting and acoustic tiling of classrooms to help hearing impaired students.

Improving the Way Information is Delivered to Disabled Students

Information that is normally provided in writing (such as handouts, timetables and textbooks) can be made more accessible by providing it:

- in Braille
- in large print
- on audiotape
- using a symbol system

Increased Access to the Curriculum

Adjustments that would help disabled students have better access to the curriculum might include:

- changes to teaching and learning arrangements;
- classroom organisation;
- timetabling;
- support from other students.

Assistive Technology

Technology suited to your child's needs can help them learn faster and more easily. This can increase their access to the curriculum. Examples of technology that can help include:

- touch-screen computers, joysticks and tracker balls;
- easy-to-use keyboards;
- adjustable tables;
- interactive whiteboards;
- text-to-speech software
- Braille-translation software;
- Induction loop technology;
- software that connects words with pictures or symbols.

Some schools may already have this kind of technology available or may be planning to get it. Arrangements for distributing resources and funding for equipment vary throughout the UK. If your child has an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP), the support outlined in this document must be provided. This may include special equipment.

School Transport

The same basic rules apply to all children. But Local Education Authorities (LEAs) can make a decision to provide transport on a case by case basis for a disabled child. Your LEA will assess your child's needs when making a decision, taking into account your child's health and/or disability and their age. If your child is offered School transport, the vehicle should have the relevant equipment to suit your child's needs - for example ramps or lifts.

Most local councils also provide escorts on school transport if needed.

You may be able to get help with your own costs for taking your child to school. Your LEA will be able to tell you if this is possible.

Norfolk LEA Entitlement to school transport Suffolk LEA SEN transport support

Some LEAs have different transport policies concerning students going to special schools.

If Your Child Cannot Attend School for Medical Reasons

If your child cannot attend school because of health problems, your LEA is responsible to help them to continue their education. This could be achieved through home schooling, for example.

SECTION 5: EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES STATEMENT

5.1 This policy has been assessed against the nine protected characteristics outlined in the Equality Act 2010.

5.2 There may be potential impact in respect of students who may share one or more of any of the nine protected characteristics. This policy is specifically written with the aim to ensure that all necessary sensitivities in the provision of sex and relationships education and parental/carer choice for 'opting out' are clarified and applied consistently.

In addition, each individual school within the Trust, will have published their own Accessibility Plan which stipulates the expectations for access to the curriculum for students who have a defined disability.

5.3 Each school in the Trust is required to display their Equalities Statement on their website.
